Global Literature and Gender Jenni Ramone,2024-12-31 Offering a thorough introduction to notions of gender in contemporary global literature Global Literature and Gender uses postcolonial theories alongside theories of space and place theories of globalization and reference to the Posthuman and the Anthropocene as competing narratives of the contemporary This book argues for the ongoing but very current significance of gender as an organizing category while also revealing the fluidity and boundary defying nature of gender in twenty first century literature Divided into three sections looking at femininity masculinity and transgender Jenni Ramone Examines globalization s uneasy relationship with theories which foreground gender and considers gender as a challenge to globalization Analyses embodied labour global travel trade and tourism Discusses the ways in which globalization and masculinity are likewise at odds Considers a diverse range of themes and genres including pearl diving taxi driving space travel authorship surrogacy modern day slavery Afrofuturism Objectophilia Stigma Dehumanisation Passing and romance tourism Engages with a vast range of innovative contemporary works including those by Akwaeke Emezi Alain Mabanckou Mieko Kawakami Meera Syal Helen Heath Kei Miller Deji Bryce Olukotun jaye simpson Hideki Noda Dany Laferriere Zadie Smith Hanan Al Shaykh Teju Cole Sherley Anne Williams Helen Oyeyemi and Arundhati Roy Global Literature and Gender is an essential intervention for researchers and students of globalization twenty first century literature and gender

Encyclopedia of American Indian Literature Jennifer McClinton-Temple, Alan Velie, 2015-04-22 Presents an encyclopedia of American Indian literature in an alphabetical format listing authors and their works Women Constructing Men Sarah S. G. Frantz, Katharina Rennhak, 2010-01-15 Female novelists have always invested as much narrative energy in constructing their male characters as in envisioning their female The collected articles in demonstrate that the topic of female authored masculinities not only allows scholars to re discover almost every novel written by a woman but also triggers reflections on a host of theoretical questions of gender and genre Native American Literature Helen May Dennis, 2006-11-22 Native American Literature underwent a Renaissance around 1968 and the current canon of novels written in the late twentieth century in American English by Native American or mixed blood authors is diverse exciting and flourishing Despite this very few such novels are accepted as part of the broader American literary canon This book offers a valuable and original approach to contemporary Native American literature Dennis s contemplation of space and spatialized aesthetics is compelling and persuasive Considering Native American literature within a modernist framework and comparing it with writers such as Woolf Stein T S Eliot and Proust results in a valuable and enriching context for the selected texts Vital reading for scholars of Native American Literature this book will also provide good grounding in the subject for those with an interest in American and twentieth century literature more generally Interdisciplinary and Cross-cultural Narratives in North America Mark Cronlund Anderson, Irene Maria Blayer, 2005 North America is becoming increasingly interdisciplinary and cross cultural In this emerging context narratives play a crucial role in weaving patterns that in turn provide fabrics for our lives In this thoroughly original collection Interdisciplinary and Cross Cultural Narratives in North America a dozen scholars deploy a variety of provocative and illuminating approaches to explore and understand the many ways that stories speak to from within and across culture s in North America Writing Together, Writing Apart Linda K. Karell, 2002-01-01 In this study of collaborative writing in western American literature Linda K

Karell asks broad and fruitful questions about how writing in general is produced By examining collaboration both as a process and as a product she challenges the definition of an author as an individual genius who creates original works of art in isolation From a collaborative view what was a fairly direct cause and effect scenario individual author inspiration original literary masterpiece becomes something much less clear An individual is always located within a shifting context of texts from which he or she draws to produce often with substantial and varied support from other writers editors spouses or partners and institutions a work that will be termed original Collaboration insists on recognizing this oft hidden contribution of others as an important component of meaning something our traditional understanding of the author persists in ignoring or displacing Karell provides a close analysis of the various means by which writers work with others to produce their final literary products Methods include traditional joint writing practices such as ghostwriting or edited texts as in the case of Mourning Dove and ethnographer Lucullus McWhorter the incorporation of existing diaries or letters from other writers for example Wallace Stegner s Angle of Repose with Mary Hallock Foote and dual authored texts such as those produced by Louise Erdrich and Michael Dorris By challenging the seductive myth of the solitary writer within the context of the myth of the independent westerner Karell makes the compelling argument that collaboration is an inescapable part of writing

Handbook of the American Novel of the Twentieth and Twenty-First Centuries Timo Müller, 2017-01-11

Increasing specialization within the discipline of English and American Studies has shifted the focus of scholarly discussion toward theoretical reflection and cultural contexts These developments have benefitted the discipline in more ways than one but they have also resulted in a certain neglect of close reading As a result students and researchers interested in such material are forced to turn to scholarship from the 1960s and 1970s much of which relies on dated methodological and ideological presuppositions The handbook aims to fill this gap by providing new readings of texts that figure prominently in the literature classroom and in scholarly debate from James s The Ambassadors to McCarthy s The Road These readings do not revert naively to a time before theory Instead they distil the insights of literary and cultural theory into concise introductions to the historical background the themes the formal strategies and the reception of influential literary texts and they do so in a jargon free language accessible to readers on all levels of qualification Afterlives of Modernism John Carlos Rowe, 2015-02-05 In times of liberal despair it helps to have someone like John Carlos Rowe put things into perspective in this case with a collection of essays that asks the question Must we throw out liberalism s successes with the neoliberal bathwater Rowe first lays out a genealogy of early twentieth century modernists such as Gertrude Stein John Dos Passos William Faulkner and Ralph Ellison with an eye toward stressing their transnationally engaged liberalism and their efforts to introduce into the literary avant garde the concerns of politically marginalized groups whether defined by race class or gender The second part of the volume includes essays on the works of Harper Lee Thomas Berger Louise Erdrich and Philip Roth emphasizing the continuity of efforts to represent domestic political and social concerns While critical of the increasingly conservative tone of the neoliberalism of the past quarter century Rowe rescues the value of liberalism's sympathetic and socially engaged intent even as he criticizes modern liberalism's inability to work transnationally

The Oxford Encyclopedia of American Literature Jay Parini, 2004 The Encyclopedia of American Literature gathers together 350 essays from over 190 leading scholars on the whole of American literature from European discovery to the present At the core of the Encyclopedia lie 250 essays on poets playwrights essayists and novelists Figures such as Whitman Melville Faulkner Frost and Morrison are discussed in detail with each examined in the context of his or her times an assessment of the writer's current reputation a bibliography of major works and a list of major critical and biographical works about the writer Fifty entries on major works such as Moby Dick Song of Myself Walden The Great Gatsby The Waste Land Their Eyes Were Watching God Death of a Salesman and Beloved place the work in its historical context and offer a range of possibilities with regard to critical approach The Encyclopedia also contains essays on literary movements periods and themes pulling together a broad range of information and making connections between them Each entry has its own primary and annotated secondary bibliography and a system of cross references helps readers locate information with ease The Encyclopedia of American Literature is an outstanding reference source for students studying authors or particular pieces of literature libraries looking for one comprehensive source and readers interested in American literature its authors and its connection with various areas of study

The Concept of Community from a Global Perspective, 2024-05-21 This volume presents essays analysing the ambivalent history of the globally influential political and social concept of community and the paradigms it has engendered in academia and politics While the term community often evokes positive sentiments it is also linked to oppressive regimes and exclusion A survey of the term's use is followed by studies of the sociologist Ferdinand Tönnies and of the use of the term in disciplines such as politics applied linguistics anthropology literary theory philosophy and intellectual history The volume concludes with an analysis of the application of the concept in politics in the UK debates between liberals and communitarianists utopianism and African philosophy Contributors are Niall Bond Christopher Adair Toteff Daniel Alvaro Alexander Wierzock Sebastian Klauke Antonin Cohen Jan Buts Stéphane Vibert Rami Astruc Elisabeth Bouzonviller Françoise Orazi Andrew Vincent Astrid von Busekist Robert Kramm and Thaddeus Metz

Dialogism or Interconnectedness in the Work of Louise Erdrich Marta J. Lysik, 2017-05-11 This study portrays how Louise Erdrich's writing extends Bakhtin's concepts of dialogism and the novel through an investigation of a selection of her works as well as her practices of writing co-writing re-writing and reading novels Erdrich's hallmark dialogic literary style and practice encompasses writing a series of books re-cycling protagonists narrators events themes and settings re-writing previously published novels employing heteroglossia and polyglossia co-authoring texts blogging about books translating different epistemologies for different audiences and spotlighting families as the main thematic concern in dialogue with her own parenting experiences as depicted in her memoirs She writes a growing series of novels compost pile like capitalizing on former novels as well as adding new elements and new stories in the process Thus a dialogic intra textual microcosm emerges Erdrich suffuses her writing with an incessant quality of changing and becoming Her novels resist closure while protagonists return and demand attention and the author answers dialogically by penning new tales Erdrich's writing can be accessed because it concerns shared human experiences and relationships both their ambivalence and their beauty Erdrich includes instead of alienating sympathizes instead of judging which makes her an internationally acclaimed author with her work crossing topographies epistemologies and identities The Midwestern Novel Nancy L.

Bunge,2014-11-21 With Huckleberry Finn American fiction changed radically and shifted its setting to the middle of the country A focus on social issues replaced the philosophic and psychological explorations that dominated the work of Melville and Hawthorne Colloquial speech rather than elevated language articulated these fresh ideas while common folk rather than dramatic characters like Ahab and Hester Prynne played central roles This transformation of American literature has been largely ignored while during the 130 years since Huckleberry Finn the Midwest has continued to produce writers whose work like Twain's addresses injustice by portraying the decency of ordinary people Since the end of the 19th century Midwestern authors have dismissed the elite and celebrated those whom the power structure typically excludes children women African Americans and the lower classes Instead of wealth and power this literature values authenticity and compassion The book explores this literary tradition by examining the work of 30 Midwestern writers including F Scott Fitzgerald Willa Cather Ernest Hemingway Richard Wright Saul Bellow Toni Morrison Jonathan Franzen Jane Smiley and Louise Erdrich

Retrospection and Revision in Modern and Contemporary Art, Literature and Music Mette Gieskes, Mathilde Roza,2024-01-03 This interdisciplinary book investigates the various ways in which North American and European modern and contemporary artists authors and musicians have returned to earlier works of their own engaging in inventive revivals and transformations of the past in the present The book is distinctive in its focus on such revisits as well as in the diversity of art forms under review in addition to visual art the book explores fiction poetry literary criticism film rock music and philosophy This scope together with the time span covered in the book from the 1850s to the twenty first century allows for a broad view on retrospection and revision The case studies presented here offer a multifaceted exploration of the widely different goals to which practitioners of the arts have made retrospection and revision functional against the background of cultural social political and personal forces
