The Magic Pot Nansi Stories From The Caribbean:

The Magic Pot Odeen Ishmael, 2010-07-30 This book comprises a collection of popular folk stories from Guyana and other countries of the Caribbean region. The starring character in all of them is Nansi whose exploits form part of the folklore of these countries. Nansi the starring character in all the stories is also popularly known as Anansi. But in Guyana and some other Caribbean countries Nansi the shortened form of this name is usually preferred. Nansi who is a spider but who sometimes takes the qualities or form of a man or even half man and half spider is originally the chief trickster among the Ashanti and Akan peoples of West Africa. When some of these peoples were forcibly brought to the Caribbean and the American continent as slaves from the sixteenth to the nineteenth centuries they also brought with them the tales of the exploits of Nansi who was and still is variably regarded as a folk hero, a cunning trickster and also sometimes as a fool. The stories in this book are no different to the ones told in West Africa or other parts of the Caribbean and the south east United States even though the plots and the characters involved may vary slightly. They certainly provide tangible evidence that much of the oral traditions of people of African origin in the Americas remain intact despite the historical trauma caused by centuries of slavery. Nansi is always outwitting the forest creatures, humans, his own family, the community in which he lives and sometimes even deities. His character assumes various patterns. In some cases he is regarded as wise but he can be greedy, cunning, gluttonous, stupid and dishonest. Despite these varying characteristics Nansi is generally admired for the manner in which he outwits others. In Guyana and other countries of the English speaking Caribbean particularly in rural areas the exploits of Nansi are related by older people as a form of entertainment at wakes and other community gatherings. The stories are now no longer exclusive to people of West African ancestry since people of all ethnic origins in these countries regard Nansi as their folk hero as well. Interestingly all stories told at these informal community gatherings are regarded as Nansi stories even though Nansi may not be a character in any of them. The tales of Nansi are very imaginative and they are so embedded in the minds of people of Guyana and the Caribbean that sometimes any story that is far fetched and hard to believe is dismissed as a Nansi story.

Guyana Legends Odeen Ishmael, 2011-08-30 Guyana Legends Folk Tales of the Indigenous Amerindians By Odeen Ishmael Guyana Legends Folk Tales of the Indigenous Amerindians is a collection of fifty folk tales of the first people to inhabit Guyana and the contiguous regions of the north coast of the South American continent. Very little is known of Amerindian history in Guyana before the arrival of European settlers in the early seventeenth century and actually no written form of their languages existed until about seventy years ago. Indeed much of the history of the Amerindians people is based on oral traditions which are not quite clear because the periods when important events occurred are difficult to place. Still native oral traditions are very rich in folk stories of the ancestral heroes and heroines of these indigenous people. Some of these folk stories have varying versions among the nine different language groups or tribes that comprise the Amerindian population of Guyana. Such a difference is illustrated in this book which presents two different tales of how fire was acquired and various versions of the legend of two immortal folk heroes the bothers Makonaima and Pia This present collection of Amerindian legends was compiled over a lengthy period of many years during which I listened to and collected versions of these tales from elderly Amerindians in various regions of Guyana and more recently from Amerindian residents of the Delta Amacuro region of Venezuela on the frontier with Guyana Significantly most of these legends were also summarised since the late nineteenth century by a succession of writers including Everard Fim Thurn W H Brett Walter Roth and Leonard Lambert But it is significant to note that those versions by no means original which were related by those writers of the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries have undergone some changes with the passing years and new characters have been added to them Since Amerindians of the North West District of Guyana are ethnologically and culturally related to those in the eastern regions of Venezuela particularly the Delta Amacuro region it is noteworthy that the myths and legends of those Venezuelan Amerindians bear close similarities to those of their Guyanese counterparts Interestingly the Guajiro people Amerindians of Arawak background living in north west Venezuela near to Lake Maracaibo also have some folk tales that closely resemble those of their relatives living in the North West District of Guyana and the Delta Amacuro region of Venezuela For further information the writings of Venezuelan researchers Cesar o de Armellada Maria Manuela de Cora and Michel Perrin are recommended It is essential to note too that an important character in Amerindian legend is Tiger While there are a number of tigers in the stories and generally they are all villains these animals however are not part of the fauna in Guyana or the entire American continent What is generally referred to as a tiger is the large spotted jaguar And the black tiger mentioned in one of the stories in this book is the large South American puma Twenty of the folk tales included in this collection appear in my earlier book Amerindian Legends of Guyana published in 1995 However they have now been revised and in some cases retitled Among the thirty other stories are those of two clever tricksters in Amerindian folklore the lazy but sly Konehu and the wily rabbit Koneso Readers will find these legends of the original inhabitants of Guyana informative in the anthropological sense in addition to being interesting and entertaining at the same time

The Trail of Diplomacy Odeen Ishmael, 2015-02-13 This volume the second of a three part documentary continues the history of the Guyana Venezuela border issue from where Volume One left off It describes Venezuelas dissatisfaction over the territorial and boundary award issued in 1899 by the international arbitral tribunal subsequently leading to that countrys government unilaterally declaring it in 1962 as being null and void The volume goes on to examine the evolved political events including the sporadic Venezuelan infringements of Guyanas territorial integrity and the pursuit of diplomacy by both countries resulting eventually in 1966 to a formal agreement at Geneva aimed at seeking a practical settlement of the controversy arising from Venezuelas contention of the nullity of the arbitral award A subsidiary protocol to suspend the search for a settlement was signed in Port of Spain in 1970 but the succeeding twelve year period was characterized by a succession of bilateral political interplay resulting in Venezuelas decision to terminate this pact in 1982

The Caribbean Story Finder Sharon Barcan Elswit, 2017-09-11 The Caribbean islands have a vibrant oral folklore In Jamaica the clever spider Anansi who outsmarts stronger animals is a symbol of triumph by the weak over the powerful The fables of the foolish Juan Bobo who tries to bring milk home in a burlap bag illustrate facets of traditional Puerto Rican life Conflict over status identity and power is a recurring theme in a story from Trinidad a young bull raised by his mother in secret challenges his tyrannical father who has killed all the other males in the herd One in a series of folklore reference guides by the author this volume shares summaries of 438 tales some in danger of disappearing retold in English and Creole from West African European and slave indigenous cultures in 24 countries and territories Tales are grouped in themed sections with a detailed subject index and extensive links to online sources

The Trail of Diplomacy -- Volume Three Odeen Ishmael, 2015-08-21 This volume the third of a three part documentary continues the history of the Guyana Venezuela border issue from where Volume Two left off It deals with the involvement of the office of the secretary general of United Nations ever since the termination of the Protocol of Port of Spain in 1982 in the efforts to settle the controversy While this process did not make any progress as was anticipated the two countries despite some intermittent setbacks maintained a generally cordial relationship that saw an advance in trade relations and political cooperation The volume also examines the political and economic relations between Guyana and Venezuela since 1982 and the diplomatic activities they undertook to win international support for their respective positions The authors own diplomatic involvement in the issue is also highlighted

Pidgins, Creoles and Mixed Languages Viveka Velupillai, 2015-04-15 This lucid and theory neutral introduction to the study of pidgins creoles and mixed languages covers both theoretical and empirical issues pertinent to the field of contact linguistics Part I presents the theoretical background with chapters devoted to the definition of terms the sociohistorical settings theories on the genesis of pidgins and creoles as well as discussions on language variation and the sociology of language Part II empirically tests assumptions made about the linguistic characteristics of pidgins and creoles by systematically comparing them with other natural languages in all linguistic domains This is the first introduction that consistently applies the findings of the Atlas of Pidgin and Creole Language Structures and systematically includes extended pidgins and mixed languages in the discussion of each linguistic feature The book is designed for students of courses with a focus on pidgins creoles and mixed languages as well as typologically oriented courses on contact linguistics

A Pepper-pot of Cultures Gordon Collier, Ulrich Fleischmann, 2003 The terms creole and creolization have witnessed a number of significant semantic changes in the course of their history Originating in the vocabulary associated with colonial expansion in the Americas it had been successively narrowed down to the field of black American culture or of particular linguistic phenomena Recently creole has expanded again to cover the broad area of cultural contact and transformation characterizing the processes of globalization initiated by the colonial migrations of past centuries The present volume is intended to illustrate these various stages either by historical and or theoretical discussion of the concept or through selected case studies The authors are established scholars from the areas of literature linguistics and cultural studies they all share a lively and committed interest in the Caribbean area certainly not the only or even oldest realm in which processes of creolization have shaped human societies but one that offers by virtue of its history of colonialization and cross cultural contact its most pertinent example The collection beyond its theoretical interest thus also constitutes an important survey of Caribbean studies in Europe and the Americas As well as searching overview essays there are sociolinguistic contributions on the linguistic geography of criollo in Spanish America the Limonese creole speakers of Costa Rica creole language and identity in the Netherlands Antilles and the affinities between Papiamentu and Chinese in Cura ao ethnohistorical examinations of such topics as creole transgression in the Dominican Haitian borderland the Haitian Mandingo and African fundamentalism creolization and identity in West Central Jamaica Afro Nicaraguans and national identity and the Creole heritage of Haiti studies of religion and folk culture including voodoo and creolization in New York City the creolization of the Mami Wata water spirit and signifyin g processes in New World Anancy tales a group of essays focusing on the thought of douard Glissant Maryse Cond and the Cr olit writers and case studies of artistic expression including creole identities in Caribbean women s writing Port au Prince in the Haitian novel Cynthia McLeod and Astrid Roemer and Surinamese fiction Afro Cuban artistic expression and metacreolization in the fiction of Robert Antoni and Nalo Hopkinson The Elementary
