A Translation Theory of Knowledge Transfer Kjell Arne Røvik,2023-03-28 In A Translation Theory of Knowledge Transfer Kjell Arne Røvik develops a new theory on the challenges of transferring and sharing knowledge across organizational borders Based on extensive research he proposes a new reframing idea of knowledge transfer as acts of translation resembling the translation of texts This new concept both extends and challenges established theories of knowledge transfer Containing a comprehensive review of the last 40 years of research on knowledge transfer across organizational borders this book also offers a step by step account of how a new theory within organizational research has been developed Røvik states that the capacity of an organization to transfer and exploit knowledge from other organizations is a key to its competitiveness progress and even survival and convincingly argues how this new translation theory can be used to guide practitioners involved in knowledge transfer processes

Central and Eastern European Literary Theory and the West Michał Mrugalski,Schamma Schahadat,Irina Wutsdorff,2022-12-05 Literary theory flourished in Central and Eastern Europe throughout the twentieth century but its relation to Western literary scholarship is complex This book sheds light on the entangled histories of exchange and influence both within the region known as Central and Eastern Europe and between the region and the West The exchange of ideas between scholars in the East and West was facilitated by both personal and institutional relations both official and informal encounters For the longest time however intellectual exchange was thwarted by political tensions that led to large parts of Central and Eastern Europe being isolated from the West A few literary theories nevertheless made it into Western scholarly discourses via exiled scholars Some of these scholars such as Mikhail Bakhtin become widely known in the West and their thought was transposed onto new Western cultural contexts others such as Olga Freidenberg were barely noticed outside of Russian and Poland This volume draws attention to the schools circles and concepts that shaped the development of theory in Central and Eastern Europe as well as the histoire croisée the history of translations transformations and migrations that conditioned its relationship with the West in the Performing Arts Enza De Francisci, Cristina Marinetti, 2025-03-31 This innovative collection showcases the interconnectedness of translation and the performing arts drawing on examples spanning languages eras and modes of performance to argue for the importance of re envisioning translation beyond writing Featuring contributions from established and emerging scholars the volume builds on recent epistemological shifts from a genre based view of translation toward a material based approach interested in how performance and embodiment shape translation Chapters highlight the ways in which in the nexus of translation and performing arts we can situate the cross cultural encounters and transnational exchanges that underpin translation beyond the ideology of print and help us to better understand the international circulation of performative works The volume covers a wide range of embodied practices from immersive theatre and intercultural opera to dance and sign language performance while also incorporating key perspectives from interviews with active practitioners Taken together the collection makes the case for a more nuanced understanding of translation one which accounts for the relationships between translation and the myriad forms of performance that permeate daily life This book will be of particular interest to students and scholars in translation studies visual culture theatre translation performing arts literary studies media studies and reception studies

The Manipulation of Literature Theo Hermans, 1985-01-01 The Routledge Research Companion to the Medieval Icelandic Sagas Ármann Jakobsson, Sverrir Jakobsson, 2017-02-17 The last fifty years have seen a significant change in the focus of saga studies from a preoccupation with origins and development to a renewed interest in other topics such as the nature of the sagas and their value as sources to medieval ideologies and mentalities The Routledge Research Companion to the Medieval Icelandic Sagas presents a detailed interdisciplinary examination of saga scholarship over the last fifty years sometimes juxtaposing it with earlier views and examining the sagas both as works of art and as source materials This volume will be of interest to Old Norse and medieval Scandinavian scholars and accessible to medievalists in general

Positionalities of Translation Studies Garda Elsherif, Joanna Sobesto, 2025-06-12 This volume explores historical cultural linguistic and anthropocentric influences on Translation Studies TS It brings together nuanced individual self reflexive case studies and juxtaposes them in order to provoke discussion on the role of contemporary researchers in the discipline of TS As well as reflecting on the historical and geographical dimensions of the situatedness of TS the book builds on existing reflections on the local political and linguistic positions of TS and examines the practical and methodological consequences of these discussions By considering insights and perspectives from various disciplines the contributors refer to the current state of the art in TS and reconstruct the discussions held on Eurocentrism anthropocentrism and the historicity of TS that have been discussed in isolation so far This volume maps potential relations between them and introduces an analytical concept of positionality that highlights commonalities among various discourses As well as theoretical and historical analysis the contributors ask how to methodologically deal with this inevitable positioning of research in contemporary research practice The contributions cover various aspects of positionalities and its influences on translation research including gender anthropocentrism experiential knowledge and geopolitics They also explore various histories of translation studies in different temporal spatial and linguistic settings such as China Chinese Iran Persian the Netherlands English Ukraine Ukrainian Russian and France French thereby highlighting that TS as a discipline is not a monolith but consists of various histories interconnected with each other
