Making England Western Saree Makdisi,2014-01-10 The central argument of Edward Said s Orientalism is that the relationship between Britain and its colonies was primarily oppositional based on contrasts between conquest abroad and domestic order at home Saree Makdisi directly challenges that premise in Making England Western identifying the convergence between the British Empire s civilizing mission abroad and a parallel mission within England itself and pointing to Romanticism as one of the key sites of resistance to the imperial culture in Britain after 1815 Makdisi argues that there existed places and populations in both England and the colonies that were thought of in similar terms for example there were sites in England that might as well have been Arabia and English people to whom the idea of the freeborn Englishman did not extend The boundaries between us and them began to take form during the Romantic period when England became a desirable Occidental space connected with but superior to distant lands Delving into the works of Wordsworth Austen Byron Dickens and others to trace an arc of celebration ambivalence and criticism influenced by these imperial dynamics Makdisi demonstrates the extent to which Romanticism offered both hopes for and warnings against future developments in Occidentalism Revealing that Romanticism provided a way to resist imperial logic about improvement and moral virtue Making England Western is an exciting contribution to the study of both British literature and colonialism The Making of a Medieval Bestseller Judah D.

Galinsky,2025-05-15 In 1277 Rabbi Isaac of Corbeil produced a concise work of accessible religious law This handbook Amudei Golah Pillars of Exile began as a list of religious commandments mitzvot meant to be recited weekly It was divided into seven pillars drawn primarily from the limbs of the human body and its activities heart hand mouth monetary transactions etc and dealt exclusively with laws relevant to Jews living in the Diaspora in medieval times This handbook of religious law written in Hebrew became the most widespread book of its kind during the late Middle Ages within the various French and German speaking Jewish communities known as Ashkenaz Nearly two hundred medieval copies of the work are found in public libraries and private collections today an astounding number for a Hebrew work at the time In The Making of a Medieval Bestseller Judah Galinsky approaches his study in three parts The first surveys the ideological and cultural reasons that Rabbi Isaac composed the work and describes how the book evolved over time The second part traces the book s impressive circulation and analyzes the various reasons behind the book s success suggesting that readers who were outside the scholarly class may have been key to the work s popularity In the third part Galinsky addresses the readers themselves who ordered copies of the work from a scribe Galinsky discerns the cultural profile of the patrons who commissioned the codex by paying attention to the books they requested to have copied alongside it or its fellow travelers This study is a history of a medieval bestseller It describes how it came into being grew and evolved and also charts its circulation explains its unique appeal and depicts its readers English Mechanic and Mirror of Science ,1889 Fostering Human Capital in the Gulf Cooperation Council Countries Sameh El-Saharty,Igor Kheyfets,Christopher Herbst,Mohamed Ihsan

Ajwad,2020-07-08 The formation of human capital the knowledge skills and health that people accumulate over their lifetimes is critical for the six Gulf Cooperation Council GCC countries Human capital contributes not only to human development and employment but also to the long term sustainability of a diversified economic growth model that is knowledge based and private sector driven This approach is critical given that income from oil and gas will eventually decline and that the nature of work is evolving in response to rapid technological changes in turn demanding new skill sets The GCC governments have demonstrated their strong political will for this shift four of them are among the first countries to join the World Bank s Human Capital Project a global effort to improve investments in people as measured by the Human Capital

Index The GCC countries face four main challenges Low levels of basic proficiency among schoolchildren A mismatch between education and the labor market A relatively high rate of adult mortality and morbidity A unique labor market in which wages in the public sector are more generous than in the private sector and government employment of nationals is virtually guaranteed To address these challenges this report outlines four strategies in a whole of government approach Investing in high quality early childhood development Preparing healthier better educated and skilled youth for the future Enabling greater adult labor force participation Creating an enabling environment for human capital formation These strategies are based on best practices in other countries and feature some of the GCC countries plans including their national Visions to take their economies and societies further into the twenty first century With the COVID 19 pandemic the GCC countries face additional challenges that may worsen some preexisting vulnerabilities and erode human capital In response the GCC governments have taken multiple measures to protect their populations health and their economies Any country s decision to reopen its economy needs to closely consider public health consequences to avoid a resurgence of infections and any further erosion of its human capital The COVID 19 crisis underscores that the need to accelerate and improve investment in human capital has never been greater Once the GCC countries return to a new normal they will be in a position to achieve diversified and sustainable growth by adopting and then tailoring the strategies presented in this report

Beyond the Epic Gene Phillips, 2006-11-24 Two time Academy Award winner Sir David Lean 1908 1991 was one of the most prominent directors of the twentieth century responsible for the classics The Bridge on the River Kwai 1957 Lawrence of Arabia 1962 and Doctor Zhivago 1965 British born Lean asserted himself in Hollywood as a major filmmaker with his epic storytelling and panoramic visions of history but he started out as a talented film editor and director in Great Britain As a result he brought an art house mentality to blockbuster films Combining elements of biography and film criticism Beyond the Epic The Life and Films of David Lean uses screenplays and production histories to assess Lean s body of work Author Gene D Phillips interviews actors who worked with Lean and directors who knew him and their comments reveal new details about the director s life and career Phillips also explores Lean s lesser studied films such as The Passionate Friends 1949 Hobson s Choice 1954 and Summertime 1955 The result is an in depth examination of the director in cultural historical and cinematic contexts Lean s approach to filmmaking was far different than that of many of his contemporaries He chose his films carefully and as a result directed only sixteen films in a period of more than forty years Those films however have become some of the landmarks of motion picture history Lean is best known for his epics but Phillips also focuses on Lean s successful adaptations of famous works of literature including retellings of plays such as Brief Encounter 1945 and novels such as Great Expectations 1946 Oliver Twist 1948 and A Passage to India 1984 From expansive studies of war and strife to some of literature s greatest high comedies and domestic dramas Lean imbued all of his films with his unique creative vision Few directors can match Lean s ability to combine narrative sweep and psychological detail and Phillips goes beyond Lean s

epics to reveal this unifying characteristic in the director's body of work Beyond the Epic is a vital assessment of a great director's artistic process and his place in the film industry English Mechanics and the World of Science, 1889

Legal Aspects of Marine Protected Areas in the Mediterranean Sea Mitja Grbec, Tullio Scovazzi, Ilaria Tani, 2023-09-11 The objective of this book is to provide a comprehensive overview of the legal basis under international law and the relevant regional legal frameworks for the establishment and further development of area based conservation tools in the Mediterranean Sea with a particular emphasis placed on the transboundary area based conservation instruments available for the Adriatic and Ionian Seas Specifically the aim is to identify and analyze the concepts and functioning of both marine protected areas MPAs as traditional area based tools enabling marine habitat and species conservation and other effective area based conservation measures OECMs as a more recent addition to the picture Further with a view to providing responses to the complex set of challenges raised by the variety of tools and levels of intervention conclusions and ways forward are provided that identify practical implementation instruments through which a truly transboundary perspective may guide the development of protected marine spaces in the macro region An essential consideration in defining the ways forward lies in that the current trend towards the establishment of exclusive economic zones could soon become an incentive towards the adoption of a coherent and coordinated Mediterranean and Adriatic and Ionian network of transboundary area based conservation tools The book will be of interest to policy makers practitioners and academics with an interest in public international law the law of the sea and sustainable ocean governance

Food Sovereignty in International Context Amy Trauger, 2015-02-11 Food sovereignty is an emerging discourse of empowerment and autonomy in the food system with the development of associated practices in rural and some urban spaces While literature on food sovereignty has proliferated since the first usage of the term in 1996 at the Rome Food Summit most has been descriptive rather than explanatory in nature and often confuses food sovereignty with other movements and objectives such as alternative food networks food justice or food self sufficiency This book is a collection of empirically rich and theoretically engaged papers across a broad geographical spectrum reflecting on what constitutes the politics and practices of food sovereignty They contribute to a theoretical gap in the food sovereignty literature as well as a relative shortage of empirical work on food sovereignty in the global North much previous work having focussed on Latin America Specific case studies are included from Canada Norway Switzerland southern Europe UK and USA as well as Africa India and Ecuador The book presents new research on the emergence of food sovereignties It offers a wide variety of empirical examples and a theoretically engaged framework for explaining the aims of actors and organizations working toward autonomy and democracy in the food system

What Is a Game? Gaines S. Hubbell, Matthew Wilhelm Kapell, 2020-02-28 What is a videogame What makes a videogame good If a game is supposed to be fun can it be fun without a good story If another is supposed to be an accurate simulation does it still need to be entertaining With the ever expanding explosion of new videogames and new developments in the gaming world questions about videogame criticism are becoming more complex The differing definitions that players and critics use to decide what a game is and what makes a game successful often lead to different ideas of how games succeed or fail This collection of new essays puts on display the variety and ambiguity of videogames Each essay is a work of game criticism that takes a different approach to defining the game and analyzing it Through analysis and critical methods these essays discuss whether a game is defined by its rules its narrative its technology or by the activity of playing it and the tensions between these definitions With essays on Overwatch Dark Souls 3 Far Cry 4 Farmville and more this collection attempts to show the complex changes challenges and advances to game criticism in the era of videogames
