chapters of this volume are purposefully diverse they range from membrane properties of prefrontal neurons to cognitive psychology Nevertheless this volume must not be regarded as a mere collection of writings with the different sub themes As you will see chapters often vigorously encompass domains of the prefrontal field in effort to provide a big picture That is actually what we attempted to do in this volume On one hand we have accumulated knowledge on the properties of neurons and synapses in the prefrontal cortex as well as the actions of critical neuromodulators such as dopamine On the other hand behavioral and cognitive neurosciences have begun to reveal the fascinating role of the prefrontal cortex in such mental processes as working memory attention switching and rule following and long term memory Needless to say our ultimate goal as neurobiologists is to know what relationship there is between these cellular and cognitive processes This volume is meant to serve as a comprehensive introduction towards that goal Readers will be informed for example of how plasticity of prefrontal neurons is regulated how it is involved in certain cognitive processes in rodents and how the rodent models can apply to the primates

Autobiographical Occasions and Original Acts Albert E. Stone, 1982-09 Stone rescues autobiography from the thickets of recent critical theory in which the life portrayed has often seemed less important than the inventive literary techniques He argues that the techniques are important because knowledge of the life is important to our culture Restricting himself primarily to 16 writers of the 20th century Stone juxtaposes two or three figures in given chapters such as Becoming a Woman in Male America Margaret Mead and Anais Nin and Two Recreate One The Act of Collaboration in Recent Black Autobiography Ossie Guffy Nate Shaw Malcolm X Other writers considered are W E B DuBois Henry Adams Black Elk Thomas Merton Louis Sullivan Richard Wright Norman Mailer Frank Conroy and Lillian Hellman
