Sataloff,2012-03-30 The Routledge Companion to Interdisciplinary Studies in Singing, Volume II: Education Helga R. Gudmundsdottir,Carol Beynon,Karen Ludke,Annabel J. Cohen,2020-05-19 The Routledge Companion to Interdisciplinary Studies in Singing Volume II Education examines the many methods and motivations for vocal pedagogy promoting singing not just as an art form arising from the musical instrument found within every individual but also as a means of communication with social psychological and didactic functions Presenting research from myriad fields of study beyond music including psychology education sociology computer science linguistics physiology and neuroscience the contributors address singing in three parts Learning to Sing Naturally Formal Teaching of Singing Using Singing to Teach In 2009 the Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council of Canada funded a seven year major collaborative research initiative known as Advancing Interdisciplinary Research in Singing AIRS Together global researchers from a broad range of disciplines addressed three challenging questions How does singing develop in every human being How should singing be taught and used to teach How does singing impact wellbeing Across three volumes The Routledge Companion to Interdisciplinary Studies in Singing consolidates the findings of each of these three questions defining the current state of theory and research in the field Volume II Education focuses on the second question and offers an invaluable resource for anyone who identifies as a singer wishes to become a singer works with singers or is interested in the application of singing for the purposes of education Journal of Singing ,2008 Vocal Consistency and Artistic Freedom Susan Boddie,2021-07-14 As voice teachers we should strive to help our students uncover their individual sound and to facilitate technical consistency Further we as teachers should ultimately guide students to positive independent and emotionally engaged performances on stage or in recordings Some teaching approaches may guide students to these experiences others may not A successful outcome of vocal study occurs when the student no longer needs their teacher they are independent and autonomous singers and musicians and are able to teach themselves or perhaps others This study views the student teacher relationship in the voice student through an existentialist lens influenced by the Sartrean principles of responsibility and freedom The study examines some commonly used teaching approaches viewing them from an historical perspective through the National schools in vocal instruction to more current approaches that may be commonly found in higher education teaching studios This study offers a perspective that hopes to foster discussion a re examination of and self reflection in the teaching practices of higher education vocal instruction The research is grounded in hermeneutic phenomenology This paradigm was a means by which to unearth and uncover the lived experience of students undergoing vocal study One that was guided by a framework of instruction influenced by the Sartrean notions of responsibility and freedom

Resonances of the Raj Nalini Ghuman,2014 During the century of British rule of the Indian subcontinent known as the British Raj the rulers felt the significant influence of their exotic subjects Resonances of the Raj examines the ramifications of the intertwined and overlapping histories of Britain and India on English music in the last fifty years of the colonial encounter and traces the effects of the Raj on the English musical imagination Conventional narratives depict a one way influence of Britain on India with the discovery of Indian classical music occurring only in the post colonial era Drawing on new archival sources and approaches in cultural studies author Nalini Ghuman shows that on the contrary England was both deeply aware of and heavily influenced by India musically during the Indian British colonial encounter Case studies of representative figures including composers Edward Elgar and Gustav Holst and Maud MacCarthy an ethnomusicologist and performer of the era integrate music directly into the cultural history of the British Raj Ghuman thus reveals unexpected minglings of peoples musics and ideas that raise questions about Englishness the nature of Empire and the fixedness of identity Richly illustrated with analytical music examples and archival photographs and documents many of which appear here in print for the first time Resonances of the Raj brings fresh hearings to both familiar and little known musics of the time and reveals a rich and complex history of cross cultural musical imaginings which leads to a reappraisal of the accepted historiographies of both British musical culture and of Indo Western fusion
