Strategic Technology Partnering and Supply Chain Risk Management Irène Kilubi, 2017-11-11 With her work Irène Kilubi builds a bridge between two areas of business research on the one hand the supply chain management and on the other hand innovation and technology management. In the context of her work she proposes to expand the usual instruments of supply chain risk management by strategic technology partnerships which not only provide procurement alternatives but also the possibility to develop technological alternatives at short notice. More precisely she advocates that the capabilities needed for STP serve as enablers for effective SCRM. Accordingly connections between supply chain risk management and strategic technology partnering are presented and a conceptual framework is correspondingly created.

Ramadurai, Sujata K. Bhatia, 2018-12-06 Throughout history humanity has been plagued by a myriad of humanitarian crises that seemingly take the form of perpetual human suffering Today approximately 125 000 000 people require humanitarian assistance as the result of famine war geopolitical conflict and natural disasters A core component of this suffering is afflictions related to human health where disturbances strain or overwhelm the existing healthcare infrastructure to create the conditions for an increase in morbidities and co morbidities One of the more startling elements is the loss of life to preventable medical conditions that were not properly treated or even diagnosed in the field and is often due to the limited interventional capacity that medical teams and humanitarian practitioners have in these scenarios These individuals are often hindered by medical equipment deficiencies or devices not meant to function in austere conditions The development of highly versatile feasible and cost effective medical devices and technologies that can be deployed in the field is essential to enhancing medical care in unconventional settings In this book we examine the nature of the creative problem solving paradigm and dissect the intersection of frugal disruptive open and reverse innovation processes in advancing humanitarian medicine Specifically we examine the feasible deployment of these devices and technologies in unconventional environments not only by humanitarian aid and disaster relief agencies but also by crisis affected communities themselves The challenge is complex but the financial support and technical development of innovative solutions for the delivery of humanitarian aid is a process in which everyone is a stakeholder
