

GEOGRAPHY GRADE 8 TERM 4 SUMMARY

Trade and transport around the world

UNIT 1 REASONS FOR TRADE

- trade – the exchange of goods or labour
 - Trade helps people to get the things they need.
 - People trade with natural resources, with the goods they make and with their skills and labour.
 - Trade takes place between individuals, companies and between countries.
 - International trade is trade between countries.
 - International trade involves buying imports and selling exports.
 - International trade means that communities all over the world can have the same kinds of goods and live similar lifestyles

Unit 2: Links between trade and transport

- Transport and trade are almost always linked.
- People need transport to move goods between places, for example transporting vegetables to a local market or transporting goods to other parts of the world in container ships. Improved transport methods and systems such as refrigerated ships, oil pipelines and container transport have increased the volume of world trade.
- More goods are produced for trade now than at any other time in history.

A refrigerator truck

- Transport in towns enables workers to travel to work.
- People all over the world use buses, trains, taxis and cars to get to work.
- Workers trade their labour for money, which they use to buy the things they need.

A passenger train

- The invention of large container ships means that the cost of transporting goods between countries has decreased.
- Transport improvements, such as high speed trains, also help to move goods and people more quickly between places.

container ships – ships that transport large metal containers
spoiling – going bad; rotting labour – work

Unit 3: Different modes of transport and their uses: sea, air, road, rail and pipeline

Sea transport

- Most of the goods traded internationally are transported across the world in ships.
- By far, the most common kind of ship is the container ship.
- Containers are large metal boxes with doors.
- Each container is packed with goods and then locked.
