Vujicic,Azilah Kasim,Stella Kostopoulou,Jorge Chica Olmo,Mohamed Aslam,2022-12-05 This book is an assemblage of diverse yet homogenous research papers that bring together the issues and challenges of cultural heritage conservation and tourism sustainability The richness of this book stems from its inclusion of diverse case studies from around the globe while scrutinizing the cases of both deterioration and sustainability of cultural heritage belonging to different eras This book sheds light on the connections between culture as an essential dimension of local sustainability and cultural dimensions of sustainable tourism further contributing to the complex discussion between culture and tourism This book gives an overview of current research and subjects of discussion that focuses on cultural sustainable tourism through several sections such as planning and management of sustainable tourism sustainable cultural tourism development in a digital era social and economic impacts of cultural tourism and sustainable tourism development in urban areas Sesotho Language David Ambrose,2006 English a Changing Medium for Education Constant Leung,Brian V. Street,2012-07-25 In this volume a range of authors from different international contexts argue that the notion of communicative competence in English hitherto largely referenced to metropolitan native speaker norms has to be expanded to take account of diverse contexts of use for a variety of purposes It also discusses the popular belief that language and literacy should simply be regarded as a technical skill which confers universal benefits and that it should be replaced with a social practice view that recognises situated variations and diversity This volume we believe provides a reference point for extended research and practice in these areas that will be of interest to wide range of people engaged in language and literacy education Globalisation and African Languages Katrin Bromber,Birgit Smieja,2011-07-20 Globalisation and African Languages links African language studies to the concept of globalisation which increasingly undergoes critical review Hence African linguists of various provenience can make valuable contributions to this debate In cultural matters which by definition include language there is often a sense that globalisation leads to a major trend of homogenisation which results in a reduction of diversity on the one hand and on the other in new themes being incorporated into global cultural patterns However often conflicting and overlapping particularistic interests exist which have a constructive as well as destructive potential This aspect leads directly to the first of three sections of this volume LANGUAGE USE AND ATTITUDES which addresses some of the burning issues in sociolinguistic research Since this research area is tightly linked to the educational domain these important issues are addressed in articles that comprise the second section of this volume LANGUAGE POLICY AND EDUCATION The third section of the volume presents articles dealing with LANGUAGE DESCRIPTION AND CLASSIFICATION demonstrating which parts of different language systems are affected through contact under historical and modern conditions The contributions of all the well known scholars in this volume show that globalisation is a two way street and to ensure that all sides benefit in a reciprocal manner means the impacts have to be monitored globally regionally nationally and locally By disseminating and emphasising these linguistic findings as part of the global cultural heritage African language studies may offer urgently needed new perspectives towards a rapidly changing world

Text Variability Measures in Corpus Design for Setswana Lexicography

Thapelo J. Otlogetswe, 2011-01-18 This book is about the design of a Setswana corpus for lexicography While various corpora have been compiled and a variety of corpora based research has been attempted in African languages no effort has been made towards corpus design Additionally although extensive analysis of the Setswana language has been done by missionaries grammarians and linguists since the 1800s none of this research is in corpus design Most research has been largely on the grammatical study of the language The recent corpora research in African languages in general has been on the use of corpora for the compilation of dictionaries and little of it is in corpus design Pioneers of this kind of corpora research in African languages are Prinsloo and De Schryver 1999 De Schryver and Prinsloo 2000 and 2001 and Gouws and Prinsloo 2005 Because of a lack of research in corpora design particularly in African languages this book attempts to fill that gap especially for Setswana It is hoped that the finding of this study will inspire similar designs in other languages comparable to Setswana We explore corpus design by focusing on measuring a variety of text types for lexical richness at comparable token points The study explores the question of whether a corpus compiled for lexicography must comprise a variety of texts drawn from different text types or whether the quality of retrieved information for lexicographic purposes from a corpus comprising diverse text varieties could be equally extracted from a corpus with a single text type This study therefore determines whether linguistic variability is crucial in corpus design for lexicography

Emerging Perspectives on Translanguaging in Multilingual University Classrooms Vimbai Mbirimi-Hungwe,Taurai Hungwe,Solly Matshonisa Seeletse,2020-09-16 This collection highlights research conducted by academics from the fields of science and English language studies The contributions gathered here bring out the importance of using a translanguaging approach to teaching subject content The volume responds to the generally agreed custom among academics that translanguaging should only be used by language teachers and lecturers The practical descriptions of how translanguaging has been and can be used in science and maths classrooms show that translanguaging pedagogy should not be a tool to be used by language lecturers only The volume shows that there are emerging perspectives with regards to teaching maths and science where translingual pedagogy can be used as a vehicle towards assisting students to understand difficult academic concepts

Effectiveness of teachers' guides in the Global South Benjamin Piper, Yasmin Sitabkhan, Jessica Mejia, Kellie Betts, 2018-05-10 This report presents the results of RTI International Education's study on teachers guides across 13 countries and 19 projects Using quantitative and qualitative methods we examine how teachers guides across the projects differ and find substantial variation in the design and structure of the documents We develop a scripting index so that the scripting levels of the guides can be compared across projects The impact results of the programs that use teachers guides show significant impacts on learning outcomes associated with approximately an additional half year of learning showing that structured teachers guides contribute to improved learning outcomes During observations we find that teachers make a variety of changes in their classroom instruction from how the guides are written showing that the utilization of structured teachers guides do not create robotic teachers unable to use their own professional skills to teach children Unfortunately many changes that teachers make reduce the amount of group work and interactivity that was described in the guides suggesting that programs should encourage teachers to more heavily utilize the instructional routines designed in the guide The report includes a set of research based guidelines that material developers can use to develop teachers guides that will support effective instructional practices and help improve learning outcomes The key takeaway from the report is that structured teachers guides improve learning outcomes but that overly scripted teachers guides are somewhat less effective than simplified teachers guides that give specific guidance to the teacher but are not written word for word for each lesson in the guide

On Information Structure, Meaning and Form Kerstin Schwabe, Susanne Winkler, 2007 This collection of articles offers a new and compelling perspective on the interface connecting syntax phonology semantics and pragmatics At the core of this volume is the hypothesis that information structure represents the common interface of these grammatical components Information structure is investigated here from different theoretical viewpoints yielding typologically relevant information and structural generalizations In the volume s introductory chapter the editors identify two central approaches to information structure the formal and the interpretive view The remainder of the book is organized accordingly The first part examines information structure and grammar concentrating on generalizations across languages The second part investigates information structure and pragmatics concentrating on clause structure and context Through concrete analyses of topic focus and related phenomena across different languages the contributors add new and convincing evidence to the research on information structure
