Competition Rules for the 21st Century Ky Ewing, Ky P. Ewing, 2006-01-01 Ky Ewing and s magisterial work on international competition law is here updated to take stock of the prodigious expansion of anti cartel enforcement throughout the world in the intervening years Although the book has been highly regarded as a major reconsideration of the foundations of competition law and policy it has also proven enormously valuable for its wealth of information and practical guidance Among its most useful features some new to the second edition are the following and a vast amount of statistical and other information about public competition law enforcement agencies and their resources around the world and in depth analysis of the differences in competition law regimes and the various economic and legal theories from which they derive and detailed attention to jurisprudence and legal commentary over many decades and probing of the meaning of and low and and fair and as applied to prices and suggestions for carrying out re evaluation of policies on the basis of empirical evidence and formulation of a model new U S competition law preempting state laws and and guidelines on distinguishing useful collaboration from collusive activity Nine new appendices have been added to this edition covering such informative material as new statistical data about U S enforcement details on the dramatic cooperation now taking place among nations in anti cartel enforcement and suggestions on how companies and practitioners should respond to multinational investigations

Archaeological Theory Norman Yoffee, Andrew Sherratt, 1993-07-22 This volume assesses the real achievements of archaeology in increasing an understanding of the past Without rejecting the insights either of traditional or more recent approaches it considers the issues raised in current claims and controversies about what is appropriate theory for archaeology The first section looks at the process of theory building and at the sources of the ideas employed The following studies examine questions such as the interplay between expectation and evidence in ideas of human origins social role and material practice in the formation of the archaeological record and how the rise of states should be conceptualised further papers cover issues of ethnoarchaeology visual symbols and conflicting claims to ownership of the past The conclusion is that archaeologists need to be equally wary of naive positivism in the guise of scientific procedure and of speculation about the unrecorded intentions of prehistoric actors
