I have never been taught what assessment is so, this subject is being completely new and because of that, everything represents new learning for me. Despite that, in this task I will focus on a specific thing that has caught my attention. Therefore, in the following lines, I will focus on what I have learnt about formative assessment.

Formative assessment is a very important part in the teaching-learning process. If formative assessment is carried out properly, results in summative assessment will be better and students will learn more, even they will learn why they are working by one way and no other or what they are going to be taught or assessed; definitively, they will take more part in their learning process so they will feel involved and they will have more success.

However, it is not easy to develop formative assessment in the classroom. Formative assessment means work hard because teachers have to think and ask students about their needs and interests, teacher have to communicate with the students in order to help them to think and express their ideas and what they have learnt. This communication should be reflective and we have to make students feel secure and comfortable, creating a good environment in the class which facilitates the teaching-learning process. It is also really important to give them personal feedback. Teachers have to understand that feedback is better if it is given personally to each pupil and we have to avoid comparisons because instead of making students improve we do the contrary. I try not to compare students because, at the end, what teachers get by doing this is to confront students.

Finally, I would like to say that it is truly important to let students know what they are going to learn in each unit (learning targets) in order to make them feel part of their own learning process and to foster them to learn and study more. Moreover teacher have to give students clear examples to understand what they are being taught and try to focus instruction on a day-to-day basis because, by this way, we can realized if students are really improving or not and we do not have the necessity of doing written exams in which students feel more nervous and anxious.

Reflection Paper Education:

Theological Reflection and Education for Ministry John E. Paver, 2016-02-17 A major and continuing problem for theological education and the practice of Christian ministry is how to best achieve a genuine integration between theory and practice theology and experience The key claim of this book is that theological reflection beginning with experience is a method of integration and that pastoral supervision is a vehicle for theological reflection In establishing this claim John Paver demonstrates that the model and method have potential to be a catalyst for reform within theological colleges and seminaries Three different theological reflection models are developed and critiqued in this book and their capacity to be developed in particular contexts is explored This book does not stop at ministry cultural and personal integration but is bold enough to make recommendations for structural integration within the theological institution

Education for Reflective Ministry J. A. van der Ven, 1998 The picture that pastors have of themselves and of their experiences in the ministry is ambivalent On the one hand they find the pastoral work which they perform meaningful important and relevant On the other hand pastors suffer from chronic stress of some sort caused by different factors on the micro meso and macro level of religion church and society Many pastors experience the modernization and subsequently the secularization process as a very serious problem which negatively influences religious life within the parish Pastors are bowed down by uncertainty over how their work contributes to the parish mission in today s society and even more so by doubts over what that mission is in particular the diaconal mission Which direction can shall should the pastor take if neither the church nor the theological institutions are able to provide him or her with a clear frame of reference an attractive perspective a convincing policy a plausible course of action and a meaningful set of aims goals and objectives There is no alternative but to risk taking responsibility for oneself and choosing one s own course of action To take this risk is not reckless or foolhardy as long as the choices are always informed by a religious self reflection that is open to tradition as well as to the future This allows the pastor to be his own guide to transgress useless customs and habits and cross the boundaries into as yet unknown territory The task of education must be to provide the foundation that enables the pastor to make those choices and take those risks in a well considered prudent and truly religious manner This study represents not only an interpretative description of some of the education for ministry in today s societal cultural and ecclesiastical context in the western world but also a proposal for a new model the reflective ministry model

Reflective Teacher Education Linda Valli, 1992-09-01 An increasing number of educators are arguing for conceptually sound reflective or inquiry oriented teacher education programs The argument is based on the fact that reflective teaching is possible and the belief that teachers should develop habits of consciously informed action Those who promote reflective teaching argue for teacher empowerment within a self renewing profession Reflective Teacher Education offers case studies from seven universities that have organized teacher education programs around the concept of reflection The cases represent public and private institutions and alternative and traditional models of teacher preparation The studies represent efforts to transform the entire professional education component rather than individual courses or isolated strategies The volume also considers reflection as a conceptual orientation commenting on its power to inform and improve teacher education and assessing the implementation of reflection in these specific programs The six critiques raise intriguing questions about the possibility and desirability of reflective reform efforts by viewing the cases from varying perspectives development cognitive feminist social reconstructionist and post modern
