Passions of the Mind Harold N. Boris, 1993-10 Passions of the mind advances the view that as social animals we are only partly understandable in terms of individual psychodynamics. Within us another principle is at work to preserve the Group even at the expense of the individual. As we pursue our own individual courses in life seeking egoistic satisfactions we are bound by countervailing forces biologically rooted social in nature which cause us to identify with the aims of the Group even if that requires of us a failure to thrive indeed our very deaths. In this three way synthesis of classical psychoanalysis recent interpersonal and object relations psychology and current selectivistic evolutionary biology Professor Harold N. Boris draws on the work of Melanie Klein and Wilfred R. Bion and provides a bridge between the personal and biosocial psychologies of which we are made up. He elaborates on his concepts of the Couple which involves the pleasure principle and egoistic identity and the Pair which enlists his newly proposed selection principle in representing social identity and biological imperatives. Professor Boris shows how these two states of mind each with its own characteristic themes and variations feelings and fantasies and presences and absences at once compete conjoin and intertwine in the paradoxical dialectic of psychoanalysis. In the latter half of the book Professor Boris provides a transcript of an analysis a composite of what the experience in the consulting room is both for the patient and analyst. These illustrative sessions complete with commentary give the reader a rare glimpse of a living psychoanalysis in process. In addition to his day to day work in the psychoanalytic consulting room Boris brings to this subtle and scholarly book his analytic work in many other settings in day and overnight schools for normal and disturbed children in rural villages and urban centers and with individuals and groups.

Swann's Way (International Student Edition) (Norton Critical Editions) Marcel Proust, 2016-04-04 In its centennial year Marcel Proust's masterpiece of literary imagination is available in a Norton Critical Edition. Marcel Proust's seven volume masterpiece In Search of Lost Time: À la recherche du temps perdu has inspired many superlatives among them the greatest novel ever written and the greatest novel of the first half of the twentieth century. Swann's Way the first volume of the Recherche and the most widely read and taught of all the volumes is the ideal introduction to Proust's inventive genius. This Norton Critical Edition is based on C. K. Scott Moncrieff's translation which introduced the English speaking world to Proust and was published during the author's lifetime. It is accompanied by Susanna Lee's introduction note on the text and explanatory annotations. Marcel Proust was forty two years old when Swann's Way was published but its foundational ideas and general shape had been evolving for decades. Contexts includes a 1912 reader's report of the manuscript that exemplifies publishers' complicated reactions to Proust's new form of writing. Also included are three important post publication reviews of the novel by Elie Joseph Bois Lucien Daudet and Paul Souday as well as Andr. Arnyvelde's 1913 interview with Proust. The fourteen critical essays and interpretations of Swann's Way in this volume speak to the novel's many facets from the musical to the artistic to its representations of Judaism and homosexuality. The New Western Scott F. Stoddart,2016-02-19 American moviegoers have long turned to the Hollywood Western for reassurance in times of crisis During the genre s heyday the films of John Ford Howard Hawks and Henry Hathaway reflected a grand patriotism that resonated with audiences at the end of World War II The tried and true Western was questioned by Ford and George Stevens during the Cold War and in the 1960s directors like Sam Peckinpah and George Roy Hill retooled the genre as a commentary on American ethics during the Vietnam War Between the mid 1970s and early 1990s the Western faded from view until the Gulf War when Kevin Costner s Dances with Wolves 1990 and Clint Eastwood s Unforgiven 1992 brought it back with moral complexities Since 9 11 the Western has seen a resurgence blending its patriotic narrative with criticism of America s place in the global community Exploring such films as True Grit 2010 and Brokeback Mountain 2005 along with television series like Deadwood and Firefly this collection of new essays explores how the Western today captures the dichotomy of our times and remains important to the American psyche The Transhumanism
