

Osmosis Lab Potaties

Introduction: Osmosis is a type of passive transport where water is diffused across a semipermeable membrane from an area of high water concentration to an area of low water concentration. If too much water leaves the cell and goes into the environment, Plasmolysis results and the cell shrinks. On the other hand, if too much water moves into the cell, cytolysis can take place and the cell will burst open. The swelling of plant cells is called turgor pressure and is vital for support of the plant. Plasmolysis and cytolysis can both lead to the death of a cell. As a result, most cells live in an environment where movement of water in and out is about equal.
