

package sorting process at UPS before automation

- Manual Sorting: Human employees at the UPS facility manually arrange packages according to their zip codes and destinations. Since the packages are not yet automatedly sorted into their respective destination, they must wait for their respective delivery vehicles.
- Manually unloading letters: In general, mail sorting shows the primary handling value from the UPS system to deliver the mail.
- Mail sorting and handling: packages are manually handled into trucks by employees. Handling packages by automated delivery means is an automated step in this process.
