

Step 2- Editing

- Once you've finished with the revision of your argument, which has to do with how your argument is structured, then you're ready to edit.
- Editing has to do with grammar, spelling and syntax.
 - The best way to make editing corrections to the paper is to read it out loud.
 - DO NOT rely on spell and grammar check. Both make mistakes, or "misread" items. While you should spell and grammar check, there is no replacement for you editing your paper.
 - Again, I think a printed out copy helps with this.
 - Make corrections as you read aloud.
