Latinization of America Eliot Tiegel, 2007-10-01 Latinization of America provides a contemporary overview of the Hispanic population's cultural impact in the United States. The author explores the growth of this community in show business at large as well as in the Spanish speaking entertainment industry. Focusing on music, television, film, theater, and sports while also considering economic and political factors, the author tracks developments over the first decade of the 21st century. Encompassing the various groups of immigrants who create new vistas of opportunity for both Spanish speaking and mainstream entrepreneurs, this volume highlights the crossover and integration of Hispanics into competitive mainstream show business and the rush by Anglo companies to grab their piece of the Latin pie.

Watching TV Harry Castleman, Walter J. Podrazik, 2024-12-16 Castleman and Podrazik present a season by season narrative that encompasses the eras of American television from the beginning in broadcast through cable and now streaming. They deftly navigate the dizzying array of contemporary choices so that no matter where you start on the media timeline, Watching TV provides the context and background to this multi-billion dollar enterprise. Drawing on decades of research, the authors weave together personalities, popular shows, corporate strategies, historical events, and changing technologies, enhancing the main commentary with additional elements that include fall prime time schedule grids for every season, date box timelines, highlighted key text, and selected photos. Full of facts, firsts, insights, and exploits from now back to the earliest days, Watching TV is the standard chronology of American television, and reading it is akin to channel surfing through history. The fourth edition updates the story into the 2020s and looks ahead to the next waves of change. This new edition is the first to also be available in a digital format.

Food & Society Amy E. Guptill, Denise A. Copelton, Betsy Lucal, 2022-11-02 This popular text, now in a third edition, offers readers a vivid perspective on the cultural and social complexities of food practices and the current food system. Synthesizing insights from the multidisciplinary field of food studies, this book engages readers' curiosity by highlighting the seeming paradoxes of food: how food is both individual and social, reveals both distinction and conformity, and in the contemporary era seems to come from everywhere but nowhere in particular. Each chapter begins with an intriguing case study and ends with suggested resources and activities. Chapter topics include identity, restaurants, and food, media, health, marketing, industrialization, global food surplus and scarcity, and social change. Updates and enhancements in this edition reflect new scholarly insights into how food is involved in social media, social movements, and the COVID-19 pandemic. Throughout the book, blends concepts and empirical accounts to address the central issues of culture, structure, and social inequality. Written in a lively, accessible style, this book provides students with an unrivalled and multifaceted introduction to this fascinating aspect of social life.

'Modernist' Women Writers and Narrative Art Kathleen Wheeler, 1994-09 This book is an examination of the narrative strategies and stylistic devices of modernist writers and of earlier writers normally associated with late realism. In the case of the latter, Edith Wharton, Kate Chopin, and Willa Cather are shown to have engaged in an ironic critique of realism by exploring the inadequacies of this form to express human experience and by revealing hidden and contradictory assumptions. By drawing upon insights from feminist theory, deconstruction and revisions of new historicism and by restoring aspects of formalist analysis, Kathleen Wheeler traces the details of these various dialogues with the literary tradition etched into structural, stylistic and thematic elements of the novels and short stories discussed. These seven writers are not only discussed in detail; they are also related to a literary tradition of dozens of other women writers of the twentieth century as Jean Rhys, Katherine Mansfield, Stevie Smith and Jane Bowles are shown to take the developments of the earlier three writers into full modernism. Congressional Record United States. Congress, 1969. The Encyclopedia of Superheroes on Film and Television, 2d ed. John Kenneth Muir, 2008-08-21. Cincinnati Magazine taps into the DNA of the city, exploring shopping, dining, living, and culture, and giving readers a ringside seat on the issues shaping the region. Mass Media and Free Trade Emile G. McAnany, Kenton T. Wilkinson, 2010-07-05. As United States television programs, movies, music, and other cultural products make their way around the globe, a vigorous debate over cultural imperialism is growing in many countries. This book brings together experts in economics, sociology, anthropology, the humanities, and communications to explore what effects the North American Free Trade Agreement will have on the flow of cultural products among Mexico, the United States, and Canada. After an overview of free trade and the cultural industries, the book covers the following topics: dominance and resistance, cultural trade and identity in relation to Mexico and to French Canada, and intellectual property rights. Based on present trends, the contributors predict that there will be a steadily increasing flow of cultural products from the United States to its neighbors. This book grew out of a 1994 conference that brought together leaders of the cultural industries, policy makers, and scholars. It represents state-of-the-art thinking about the global influence of U.S. cultural industries. The New Peplum Nicholas Diak, 2018-01-12. Peplum, or sword and sandal films, an Italian genre of the late 1950s through the 1960s, featured ancient Greek, Roman, and Biblical stories with gladiators, mythological monsters, and legendary quests. The new wave of historic epics, known as neo-pepla, is distinctly different, embracing new technologies and storytelling techniques to create an immersive experience unattainable in the earlier films. This collection of new essays explores the neo-peplum phenomenon through a range of topics, including comic book adaptations like Hercules the expansion of genre boundaries in Jupiter Ascending and John Carter depictions of Romans and slaves in Spartacus and The Eagle and Centurion as metaphors for America's involvement in the Iraq War
