

CRITICAL REVIEW ESSAY

SENIOR EXIT PROJECT COSMETOLOGY

Objective: To write a critical review essay and Reference List (using standard APA style) from multiple sources.

Assignment: Read the three articles: "Warning: what your shampoo's label won't tell you..." "Poisonous chemicals in skin and hair products," and "Study links some hair dyes to kind of cancer."

After reading the articles, write a critical review essay that includes the following:

- A summary of the three articles and how they are related, what you have learned that you will apply in the practice of your salon,
- Your opinion about the use of dyes and chemicals in hair services,
- How you will use the information in the articles in your work with clients,
- Research one or two of the products that you plan to use and see if any of the ingredients discussed in the articles are present in the products you have chosen for your salon.

For Extra Credit: You may find and read another article that is related (cancer from salon products, ingredients in salon products, or toxic products used in salons) to obtain extra credit. The extra credit possible is up to 10 points.

Suggested Outline: Your essay should cover the following sections.

Part I: Write an introduction discussing what the essay will cover, the title of the articles read, and the purpose of the essay.

Part II. Summarize the three articles. Show that you know the content and what is important. You need to write about at least 5 toxic ingredients, what they do and where they are usually found. Show the relationship between the articles, not just summarizing the articles separately. Write your summary in your own words, not just cutting and pasting what is said in the articles.

English Learners Left Behind Kate Menken,2008-02-27 In the wake of recent federal legislation entitled No Child Left Behind high stakes standardized testing for accountability purposes is being emphasized in educational systems across the U S for all students including English Language Learners ELLs Yet language proficiency mediates test performance so ELLs typically receive scores far below those of other students This book explores how tests have become de facto language policy in schools shaping what is taught in school how it is taught and in what language s it is taught In New York City while most schools responded to testing by increasing the amount of English instruction offered to ELLs a few schools have preserved native language instruction instead Moreover this research documents how tests are a defining force in the daily lives of ELLs and the educators who serve them

Rearticulating Writing Assessment for Teaching and Learning Brian Huot,2003-04-01 Brian Huot s aim for this book is both ambitious and provocative He wants to reorient composition studies view of writing assessment To accomplish this he not only has to inspire the field to perceive assessment generally not the most appreciated area of study as deeply significant to theory and pedagogy he also has to counter some common misconceptions about the history of assessment in writing In Re Articulating Writing Assessment Huot advocates a new understanding a more optimistic and productive one than we have seen in composition for a very long time Assessment as Huot points out defines what is valued by a teacher or a society What isn't valued isn't assessed it tends to disappear from the curriculum The dark side of this truth is what many teachers find troubling about large scale assessments as standardized tests don't grant attention or merit to all they should Instead assessment has been used as an interested social mechanism for reinscribing current power relations and class systems
