

Graduation Welcome Speech – June 2010

It is my pleasure to welcome families, friends, teachers, and our younger students to graduation day at Wilmington Montessori School.

Earlier this morning, I spoke to you and your families at breakfast. Now, I speak to you as the graduates. I don't know if you all have noticed, but there has been an air of excitement in the halls of Wilmington Montessori for the past week – an excitement that began to peak yesterday when your posters went up in the lobby, graduation practice began, we had our last all school assembly and we all began to listen to Kelly practicing the music for today in the gym. There is excitement in the air and it is all about each of you. This entire school community – your teachers, your parents, grandparents, Aunts and Uncles, and brothers and sisters are so very proud of you today.

Ghost Stories Marie-Hélène Lebeault, 2022-10-28 Four Tales One Haunting Journey Dive into the heart of the unknown with Ghost Stories a collection of four tales where ordinary lives intertwine with the extraordinary Each story opens a door to the supernatural revealing secrets mysteries and eerie encounters that blur the lines of reality Ghost Stories presents a quartet of narratives each distinct yet subtly connected by the ethereal threads of the supernatural From a young boy's chilling encounter in a new town to the mysterious disappearances that baffle a community these stories weave a tapestry of intrigue suspense and ghostly whispers As each tale unfolds the reader is drawn into a world where the unexplained reigns and the past lingers in the shadows This collection is a haunting exploration of the unseen forces that shape our lives and the ghostly imprints they leave behind Follow Marie H l ne on Social Media or visit her website at www.mhlebeault.com The Constitutional Parent Jeffrey Shulman, 2014-07-01 In this bold and timely work law professor Jeffrey Shulman argues that the United States Constitution does not protect a fundamental right to parent Based on a rigorous reconsideration of the historical record Shulman challenges the notion held by academics and the general public alike that parental rights have a long standing legal pedigree What is deeply rooted in our legal tradition and social conscience Shulman demonstrates is the idea that the state entrusts parents with custody of the child and it does so only as long as parents meet their fiduciary duty to serve the developmental needs of the child Shulman's illuminating account of American legal history is of more than academic interest If once again we treat parenting as a delegated responsibility as a sacred trust not a sacred right we will not all reach the same legal prescriptions but we might be more willing to consider how time honored principles of family law can effectively accommodate the evolving interests of parent child and state The Practice of Government Public Relations

Stuck Improving Decoteau Irby, 2022-10-18 An incisive case study of changemaking in action Stuck Improving analyzes the complex process of racial equity reform within K-12 schools Scholar Decoteau J Irby emphasizes that racial equity is dynamic shifting as our emerging racial consciousness evolves and as racism asserts itself anew Those who accept the challenge of reform find themselves stuck improving caught in a perpetual dilemma of both making progress and finding ever more progress to be made Rather than dismissing stuckness as failure Irby embraces it as an inextricable part of the improvement process Irby brings readers into a large suburban high school as school leaders strive to redress racial inequities among the school's increasingly diverse student population Over a five year period he witnesses both progress and setbacks in the leaders' attempts to provide an educational environment that is intellectually socioemotionally and culturally affirming Looking beyond this single school Irby pinpoints the factors that are essential to the work of equity reform in education He argues that lasting transformation relies most urgently on the cultivation of organizational conditions that render structural racism impossible to preserve Irby emphasizes how schools must strengthen and leverage personal relational and organizational capacities in order to sustain meaningful change Stuck Improving offers a clear-eyed accounting of school improvement practices including data-driven instructional approaches teacher cultural
