The Art of the Screwball Comedy Doris Milberg, 2013-03-26 Part One of this entertaining exploration of screwball comedies and their later offspring begins in the mid 1930s discussing the careers of popular stars such as Cary Grant and Carole Lombard and well known supporting players like Walter Connolly and Ralph Bellamy also Asta the dog top animal star of the 1930s Writers and directors are given their due Frank Capra Howard Hawks and Preston Sturges just to name a few Part Two the meat of the book takes an in depth look at the films from the genre s inception 1934 s It Happened One Night to the recent 2003 Down with Love and the stars that appear in them Clark Gable Claudette Colbert Julia Roberts Richard Gere ending with some thoughts about the future Too Funny for Words David Kalat, 2019-04-11 American silent film comedies were dominated by sight gags stunts and comic violence With the advent of sound comedies in the 1930s were a riot of runaway heiresses and fast talking screwballs It was more than a technological pivot the first feature length sound film The Jazz Singer 1927 changed Hollywood. Lost in the discussion of that transition is the overlap between the two genres. Charlie Chaplin, Buster Keaton and Harold Lloyd kept slapstick alive well into the sound era. Screwball directors like Leo McCarey, Frank Capra and Ernst Lubitsch got their starts in silent comedy. From Chaplin's tramp to the witty repartee of His Girl Friday 1940, this book chronicles the rise of silent comedy and its evolution into screwball, two flavors of the same genre through the works of Mack Sennett, Roscoe Arbuckle, Harry Langdon and others. Bringing Up Baby Peter Swaab, 2010

Bringing Up Baby directed by Howard Hawks in 1938 is one of the greatest screwball comedies and a treasure from the Golden Age of Hollywood. Cary Grant plays a naive and repressed palaeontologist who becomes entangled with and ensnared by a wilful heiress Katharine Hepburn. Chaos ensues as romance blossoms and not one but two leopards are set loose in verdant Connecticut. All of Hawks's skills are to the fore: there is a wonderful ensemble cast, the characteristically refined but unselfconscious visual style, an endless succession of pratfalls, innuendo and jokes written by Dudley Nichols and Hagar Wilde, and underneath the chaos and good cheer a serious dream of escaping life's hardships by dint of nothing more or less than nerve and luck. As well as being a thoroughly American fiction of the 1930s, Bringing Up Baby is in its way a classical comic narrative exploring conflicts between civilisation and nature, rationality and insanity, or eccentricity, middle class inhibitions and aristocratic blitheness. It is the epitome of film comedy, an anthology of comic types and devices, and one of the most seductively funny films ever made.
